Cow Attack

- Two women walkers knocked down, gored at Kukkarahalli Lake
- Incident shocks early morning walkers; demand banning livestock inside Lake

The closed gates of Kukkarahalli Lake this morning.

Mysuru, June 9 (MTY&BCT)- The image of cows as placid and gentle creatures is a passé as there are incidents that demonstrate even cows can be ferocious. In some cases, the cows actually attack humans — ramming them, knocking them down, goring them, trampling them and kicking them in the head — resulting in grievous injuries.

One such incident was reported at Kukkarahalli Lake early this morning at 8 where two women were attacked by a cow when they were on their regular morning walk. The cow that was grazing on the Lake side suddenly ran into the walking path and hit one of the women. It gored her and she fell onto the ground.

Even before the other woman realised what happened to her fellow walker, the cow attacked even her. Not stopping after goring the women, the cow rolled the women on the ground even as they were screaming for help. The cow pushed the women with its head and they were about to fall into the water. Fortunately, some of the other walkers rushed for help and chased away the cow.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Prof. Basavaraju, one of the walkers, said grazing cows are ubiquitous sight at Kukkarahalli Lake. "This is a walkers' paradise and the presence of cows are dangerous. These women were attacked without being provoked," he said. Seeing the attack, other women walkers fled the spot for safety. The injured women were rushed to a hospital for treatment.

Older men and women with arthritis and hearing aids have the highest risk of being injured by livestock as they don't hear the animals charging and can't move fast enough to get out of the way. Some walkers alleged that the security personnel manning the Kukkarahalli Lake take money from livestock owners and let the animals to freely graze inside.

Bird census at Ranganathittu

60 winged beauties recorded in 3 hours

Islands stabilise after last year's deluge

By V. Shourabh

Srirangapatna, June 9- The Forest Department conducted a bird census to document winged beauties at Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary this morning. The bird census was officially started last year and today's survey was the first for this year.

The objective was to prepare a baseline data with a scientific enumeration of birds that flock the Sanctuary during different seasons. The census which began at around 7 am consisted of about 20 members or volunteers who were avid bird enthusiasts, scientists and bird watchers.

The volunteers were split into 7 teams with each team consisting of a maximum of three members and were assigned certain specific islands in different boats. This census is a part of the long-term planning to document the different species of birds that congregate and roost at the islands located a few kilometres off Srirangapatna on the banks of River Cauvery.

Dasara 2019 from Sept.29 to Oct.8

Mysuru, June 9 (RK&DM)- With Dasara procession (Jumboo Savari) scheduled to take place on Oct.8 this year, the District Administration is all set to start preparations for the world famous event from the first week of July.

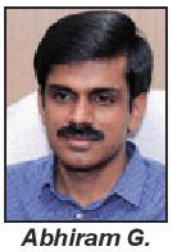
The ten-day Dasara event this year (2019) will commence on Sept.29 with the performance of puja at Sri Chamundeshwari Temple atop Chamundi Hill and culminate with Vijayadashami procession on Oct.8. Last year, the festival was held from Oct.10 to 19 and noted littérateur and philanthropist Sudha Murty, who is also the Chairperson of Infosys Foundation, had inaugurated the festivities.

With the Dasara just over three months away, the State

Government is likely to hold the high-power Dasara meeting in Bengaluru chaired by the Chief Minister later this month, following which the District Administration, MCC, MUDA, Kannada and Culture Department etc., will begin the preparations for the grand annual event in the first week of next month.

Currently, the officials are busily engaged in making the June 21 International Yoga Day event a grand success.

Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar, speaking to Star of Mysore, said that the civil works for Dasara will be taken up much before than usual as there were rampant complaints in the past about shoddy work and corruption with works being taken up just a few days before Dasara.



Abhiram G. Sankar

Maintaining that necessary measures will be taken to ensure quality of works, the DC said that he would write to the State Government shortly to fix the high-level meeting at the earliest so that preparations for Dasara festivities can be taken up much earlier and proper plans can be drawn.

A not-so-young son going through a stack of mail. Mom walks in.

Mom: Oh, you've got so many letters! Is it all fan mail? Son: Not exactly. They're all responses to the job applications I made.

Mom: Job applications? Why are you applying for a job when you already have a job? Son: I know I have a job, but that's only because everyone refused to accept my resignation when I said I'd resign. So I thought that I'd find out what my market worth is. If I did have to and get myself a new naukri-chakri. That's why I sent out all those job applications.

Mom: What did you say in your job applications? Son: Well, I gave a brief resume of my work experience, saying that I was 48-years-old, and that I'd been put in charge of a business which had been a purely family affair since the time of my great-grandfather.

Mom: Wow. That sounds impressive. Were the people to whom you sent the job applications impressed? Son: They were. They said it was very impressive that I'd been able to take charge of a growing concern that had been running fairly smoothly for over a hundred years and enjoyed a nationwide brand image, and within a few short months I'd succeeded in putting it out of commission, almost.

Mom: When it's put like that it does sound impressive, a very difficult task to achieve. Son: That's exactly what the responses to my applications said. That my resume showed a rare talent for creative disruption. A lot of people who replied to my applications were curious to know how exactly I'd managed to do it, and whether I'd done it all on my own or got someone to help me do it.

Mom: So what was the upshot of it all? Did you get a lot of job offers? Son: Not quite. In fact, I got only one, single job offer, and I'm certainly not going to take it.

Mom: Really? Where did the offer come from and what was the job? Son: It came from someplace called Race Course Road, and the job was that of junior chowkidar...

Man steals chicken to buy fuel for his BMW

Sichuan: A man, a wealthy farmer from Sichuan province in china has been arrested for allegedly stealing chicken and ducks from several villages in Linshui county in order to buy fuel for his $2,90,000 BMW car.

Police in Linshui were getting reports of chicken and ducks being stolen from many villages in the county since April, but never expected the culprit to be one of the richest farmers in the area, who lives in a multi-story villa and drives a 2 million yuan luxury BMW.

Apparently, it was the latter that pushed the farmer to a life of petty crime, as after running into financial woes, he found it tough to afford gas for his gorgeous BMW. So he started stealing people's domestic birds, breeding them on his farm and selling them for money to buy fuel.

Customer allegedly chained at this restaurant

Peru: Photos of an emigrant allegedly chained to his seat at a restaurant in Peru so that he wouldn't walk out without paying has sparked controversy online. The photos were originally posted on Twitter by a journalist. The journalist allegedly, got the photos from a countryman who emigrated to Peru following the longstanding political and social turmoil in Venezuela.

In one of his deleted tweets, the journalist claims that the man took the photos himself after being chained to his seat, but asked that his face be blurred out for fear of repercussions in Peru.

The journalist said, "The name of the person in the photos is kept anonymous for fear of reprisals. He just took the photos and left, he couldn't even eat. He says he kept the name of the restaurant because he wants to file a complaint about it."

Stray dog menace 'again' in Vijayanagar 2nd Stage

Sir,

Stray dogs have increased in huge numbers in and around Vijayanagar 2nd Stage and surely in other parts of the city. It is for several years, a repeating 'menace' that the citizens have been facing.

There were many plans of controlling stray dogs in the city but time and again, the problem resurfaces troubling residents and motorists. Recall voices of controlling stray dog population by operating them instead of mass killing, plans that never took off.

Probably the leaders/ decision-makers do not want a permanent solution that would affect their prospects of making a quick buck!

A disaster is waiting on Jodi Tenginamara Road

Mysuru, June 9 (SBD&KS)- A huge pit next to a manhole near a cement godown on Jodi Tenginamara Road is waiting to snuff out lives of innocent motorists if the authorities don't act fast. It is learnt that the huge pit was created following a portion of the road caving-in.

Hundreds of vehicles including trucks pass on this road that connects Karakushalanagar, B.M. Sri Nagar and the Outer Ring Road. The number of two-wheelers moving on this road is more.

As the pit cannot be seen from a distance, there are chances of two-wheeler riders falling after going into the pit as the streetlights are defunct since many days which may result in fatalities, hence the public have placed a big stone in front of the pit to warn motorists.

If loaded trucks or other heavy vehicles pass by the pit, there are chances of the road again caving-in.

The public have urged the authorities concerned to take steps to get the road repaired at the earliest and prevent fatalities from happening.

Mudukuthore, Male Mahadeshwara, Madhya Ranga temples to get a facelift

Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar, along with other officials, who visited Mudukuthore Mallikarjunaswami Temple recently, is seen inspecting the ongoing development works.

Mysuru, June 9 (RK&SR)- Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy has given directions to the Mysuru District Administration to make necessary preparations to hold Panchalinga Darshana which will be held in November next year at Talakad in T. Narasipura taluk.

Besides, he has also instructed them to take up Rs.25 crore development works at the historic Mudukuthore Mallikarjunaswami Temple and surrounding areas. The works will jointly be taken up by the Public Works Department (PWD) and Tourism Department. The CM gave these directions to officials at a high-level meeting convened to discuss the development of religious places across the State at his home office 'Krishna' in Bengaluru on June 7.

State PWD Minister H.D. Revanna, Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar, Assistant Commissioner M. Shivegowda, Chamarajanagar Deputy Commissioner B.B. Cauvery, Talakad Temple Executive Officer Rajashekhar and others from the region attended this key meeting along with officials from other districts of the State.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, DC Abhiram Sankar said that the CM also gave directions to the Chamarajanagar DC to complete road works, infrastructure improvement facilities at Male Mahadeshwara Hills (MM Hills) of Hanur taluk and Madhya Ranganathaswamy temple at Shivanasamudra in Kollegal taluk.

The PWD has taken up development works worth Rs.40 crore at MM Hills including the roads connecting the temple and development of Tirupati-like steps. These works are being implemented by Male Mahadeshwara Hills Development Authority.

The State Government has been renovating the 18th century Madhya Ranganathaswamy Temple including its sanctum sanctorum, ceiling, roof and rocks on the walls at a cost of Rs.2.58 crore since last year.

The CM issued clear-cut directions to officials to expedite works on priority as a large number of devotees and tourists throng these religious spots round the year.

The DC explained that the previous Government had planned development works worth Rs.15 crore at Mudukuthore Mallikarjunaswami Temple including the construction of Rajagopura, Vimanagopura, and development of connecting roads to the temple, retaining walls, illumination and decorative works, steps, railings, construction of Dasoha Bhavan, choultry and a viewing tower at Mudukuthore Hill.

Tourism Department has initiated development works worth more than Rs.10 crore for the improvement of tourism spots in and around Talakad last year.

The Chief Minister has promised to give necessary administrative, financial and technical approvals to these multi-crore religious place development projects to be completed before the start of Talakad Panchalinga Darshana.

New Venkateshwara Temple in Ramanagaram

Chief Minister Kumaraswamy also directed Muzrai and Religious Endowment Department to identify 15 acres of land in Ramanagaram district to construct Lord Venkateshwara Temple.

The temple will be built with the help of Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams that manages the Tirumala Venkateshwara Temple at Tirumala.

He also directed the officials to take up construction of a choultry at Tirumala at the cost of Rs.26 crore.

Besides he asked officials to put up a proposal for the comprehensive development of Kengal Anjaneyaswamy Temple at a cost of Rs.21 crore.

About Mudukuthore Temple

Mudukuthore Temple is the abode of Lord Mallikarjunaswami and Goddess Bhramaramba in T. Narasipur taluk. The temples are situated on a small hillock and one has to climb more than 300 steps to reach the top.

While one temple is dedicated to Lord Mallikarjuna, the other is dedicated to Goddess Bhramaramba. Lord Mallikarjuna is in the form of a Linga. These two temples are said to be in existence for several centuries now. The serene surroundings and the flowing River Cauvery near the temple attract devotees.

According to legend, the Linga inside the sanctum sanctorum was installed by Sage Kapila when he was travelling towards South. Just by the side of Mallikarjuna Temple, a temple has been built for Goddess Bhramaramba, wife of Lord Mallikarjuna.

It is believed that the Goddess assumed the form of a Bhramara, which means bee in Sanskrit in order to devour a demon called Sahasraksha and hence she is called Bhramaramba. Both these temples are managed by the State Government.

MCC to survey mass wet waste generation points

Mysuru, June 9- With timely and appropriate disposal of all sorts of wet waste and garbage posing a daunting challenge to the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC), the Civic Body will embark on conducting a survey of hotels, lodges, hostels, marriage halls, industries etc., on the generation of wet waste at those points.

Mysuru, which a few years ago had earned the 'Cleanest City Tag' twice consecutively, is now facing a big challenge in handling and disposal of waste with the city producing 402 tonnes of waste everyday on an average. Following numerous complaints on improper disposal of waste, the MCC authorities have planned to conduct a survey on the quantity of waste produced at large generation points such as hotels, restaurants and slaughter houses, etc.

To begin with, an MCC team headed by Environmental Engineers has planned to visit hotels, bars and restaurants, apartments, kalyana mantap, hostels, etc. in the first phase.

According to the Karnataka Municipal Act, Hotels, Restaurants and such other commercial establishments which produce large quantity of waste, are required to set up a wet waste disposal system of their own within their premises. But most of the owners of the mentioned business have not followed the rule and have been indiscriminately throwing waste all over.

As such, the MCC will conduct a statistical survey on the waste disposal mechanism. After completion of the survey, officials will visit hotels, restaurants and other inspected spots and take action as per law against such owners who have defaulted on having a proper waste disposal mechanism.

Disposal of wet waste and animal waste along with dry waste has proved a daunting challenge for MCC.

Even as the MCC officials have decided to conduct the survey, residents living around large waste generation spots have complained to the authorities on the stench and other health hazards posed by unscientific disposal of waste and garbage.

Fed up with unending complaints, MCC teams from all the nine zonal officials will launch the survey in order to address the challenging issue of making the city free from garbage, wastes, debris and other forms of waste.

MCC Commissioner Shilpa Nag has said that the initiative is part of efforts to keep the city clean. Stressing on the need to sensitise the owners of the hotels, restaurant etc., on the hazards of undisposed wet waste, she said that commercial establishments producing voluminous wet waste must do something for effective and appropriate disposal at their premises or else the MCC will act against them as per the law.

She said that hotels, lodges, apartments and choultries that generate more than 100kg of wet waste every day have to set up wet waste disposal units at their premises, as per the Karnataka Municipal Act. "But except for a few apartment complexes, none of the establishments are following the rule. Our survey will identify such places and we will visit the place personally to see how much of wet waste is generated," she said.

Once the survey is complete, owners and occupants of such hotels and apartments will be called and awareness will be created on wet waste disposal. "A series of workshops and awareness programmes have been planned to sensitise people on scientific wet waste disposal. If establishments do not comply with rules even after such workshops, we will take legal action against them as per the Municipal Act," Shilpa Nag added.

Smart card mode for drinking water ATMs

Cabinet decides to privatise their management through tenders in each taluk

Bengaluru, June 9- The State Cabinet has decided to outsource the management of water dispensing ATMs to private agencies to ensure 24x7 availability of safe drinking water to people.

It is also decided to have a smart card-based system for drinking water ATMs.

Speaking to reporters after the Cabinet meeting here, State Rural Development and Panchayat Raj (RDPR) Minister Krishna Byre Gowda said that the State Government has decided to outsource the water management to private parties due to the poor management of water purifying units in rural areas.

The outsourcing will be done taluk-wise. Currently, 600 to 800 ATMs remain out of order due to technical glitches at any time of the day. Out of 1,800 water-dispensing ATM across the State, only 1,600 are functional.

RDPR will give Rs.15,000 per unit to contractors who get the contract to move ATMs from coin-based system to card-based system and Rs.3,000 will be given for repairing and maintenance.

With expenditure overshooting the revenue in the management of the ATMs, the Government will reimburse the difference through viability gap funding model to the agency for a five-year period costing Rs.233 crore for five years, he said.

The Minister also cited the lack of manpower in Gram Panchayat responsible for no maintenance of the water ATMs.

Moreover, the expenditure incurred for supplying a litre of drinking water was 35 paise, which was less when compared to the expenditure to be incurred.

At present, in Bengaluru, the residents are getting 20 litres of water at Rs.5 coin. This smart card will eliminate the issue of the coin shortage.

The Minister also said that many people drop metal or other material causing damage to the machine. Thus the smart card will reduce the issue of physical damages to the machines, he said.

Tenders would be called taluk-wise to ensure quick repair and easy maintenance. Moreover, taluk-wise tenders would also generate jobs to locals, he maintained.

Soon after the incident, the security personnel reported the incident to the University authorities. The security men, however, denied that they take money from people to leave their livestock inside the Lake.

Leopard trapped near Srirangapatna

Mysuru, June 9 (MTY&DM)- A leopard was trapped in Kodiyala village of Srirangapatna taluk in Mandya district this morning.

The feline, a 4-year-old male, was repeatedly spotted in the outskirts of Kodiyala village, following which the Forest officials placed a cage at a farmland in the village neighbourhood.

The leopard is said to have walked into the trap early this morning when it came to feed on a dog, which was kept as a bait inside the cage.

Forest Department officials visited the spot.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) Dr. K.C. Prashanth Kumar said, "This census which was initiated last year is a periodical process to understand the avian diversity and composition. This is the fifth official bird census or survey and we make sure to have once in every three to four months."

"For today's census, we have bird enthusiasts and lovers from Mysuru and Bengaluru. Through this survey, we understand the habitat behaviour and breeding pattern and get an overall perspective of the birds. This data will be compiled for Ramsar Site (Wetlands of International importance) tag," he added.

The survey was conducted on scientific lines and they adopted two methods — Total Count Method and Nest Count Method. Every boat had at least one camera to record the species of the bird. But the prime importance was given to bird sightings, nest sightings and bird calls, based on which the survey was conducted.

Speaking on the Ramsar Convention, DCF Prashanth, said, "To apply for the Ramsar Site, first we will have to get related database so that Ranganathittu is declared as a wetland. So currently with the help of World Wide Fund for Nature, we are compiling the data and reports that will be sent to the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change (MoEFCC)."

"The data collated during the survey, reports, bird counts, surveys, will be submitted and then MoEFCC will declare Ranganathittu as a wetland. Once it is declared as a wetland, then we can move for the Ramsar Site recognition. Hopefully within a year or two we can get the recognition," he added.

"It is true that some islands were eroded due to the floods and huge water release from Keishna Raja Sagar Dam last year but everything is under control. The islands are stabilised and are strengthened now. Though a few crocodile hatchlings had to face the gush of water, they are all stable now and we have approximately around 100 marsh crocodiles," he added.

Around 60 species of birds were recorded during the three-hour survey. The bird counting was split into two categories- aquatic birds or water dependent birds and the terrestrial birds. Birds such as Spot-Billed Pelican, Indian Pond Heron, Grey Heron, Purple Heron, Black-Crowned Night Heron, Cattle Egret, Intermediate Egret, Large Egret, Eurasian Spoonbill, Black-Headed Ibis, White Breasted Waterhen, Red-Wattled Lapwing, Great Stone Curlew, White-Throated Kingfisher, Stork-Billed Kingfisher, Common Kingfisher, Little Cormorant, Indian Cormorant, Great Cormorant, Painted Stork, Darter, Swallow, Indian Peafowl, Jungle Crow, Rose-Ringed Parakeet, Bulbul, Tailorbird, Oriental Magpie Robin, Purple-Rumped Sunbird, Brahminit Kite, White Spotted Fantail, Crested Serpent Eagle, Indian Grey Hornbill, Baya Weaver etc. were recorded.

The Forest Department had provided binoculars, details for reference and the data chart.

Ananya Kumar, Range Forest Officer, Puttamade Gowda, Deputy Range Forest Officer and 24 staff including boatmen were assigned for the census.

Puttamade Gowda said, "The main island in the sanctuary itself is almost 0.67 kilometres. The entire sanctuary accounts for up to 400 hectares approximately. Here in our sanctuary we have many crocodiles which are above the age of 50. Some local villagers, though they do not have any scientific identification method, tend to see the marsh crocodiles and predict that it has lived over a 100 years."

Bird enthusiast D.H. Tanuja said, "The bird census is being done here for more than 30 years. But it has been started formally by the Forest Department since last year and they have involved public in this initiative. Last year there were about 97 volunteers, but the data analysis proved to be difficult as the data cleansing was not up to the mark. So, we had to ensure that the people who can really identify birds to be a part of this initiative. So the Department handpicked individuals this year and chose only those who had rich experience in birding and bird identification. Today we covered 25 islands and the data will be submitted to the Department."

Mysuru, June 9 (PM&SR)-General Secretary of National Federation of Telecom Employees (NFTE- BSNL) and Trade Union leader Chandeshwara Singh has urged the Union Government to bail out public sector telecom entity Bharat Sanchar Nigam Limited (BSNL) from its financial and management crisis.

He was speaking at the Extended National Executive Committee meeting organised by National Federation of Telecom Employees- BSNL, Karnataka Circle held at Regional Telecom Training Centre (RTTC) in city this morning.

He said that as the crisis still continued, employees and officers in majority of the Circles have not been paid their salary properly. The company management says that they do not have the cash flow for the payment of the salaries for about 1.68 lakh employees.

Like all the telecom service providers except for Reliance Jio, the revenue earnings of BSNL have drastically dipped, due to the brutal tariff war initiated by Reliance Jio. As BSNL is facing financial crunch due to the certain market condition, the company is not able to pay salary to its employees. The tariff war will continue for some more time.

"BSNL needs the support of the Central Government to overcome the crisis. The BJP-led Modi government, however, is not ready to extend their helping hands to the ailing BSNL", he alleged.

He said that Federation will fight unitedly against all moves of Union Government of removing existing employees and sacking both executive and non-executive employees.

In his address, Chief General Manager, Telecom BSNL Karnataka Circle, Bengaluru Sushil Kumar Mishra called upon the employees to upgrade their knowledge and technical skills to fight against private telecom players as there is all possibility of Union Government revamping BSNL.

Over 1,500 employees across the country participated in the programme.

Annual St. Antony's Feast at Dornahalli on June 13

K.R. Nagar, June 9 (KTR&KS)- The Annual Feast of St. Antony, popularly known as Dornahalli Jathra, will be celebrated at St. Antony's Shrine in Dornahalli here on June 13. Lakhs of devotees descend on Dornahalli every year to participate in this Feast.

Display of fire-crackers and dance performances have been organised as part of the celebrations. People not only come from across the State but also from neighbouring Goa, Tamil Nadu, Kerala and other places to witness the 10-day cultural extravaganza. For surrounding villagers, irrespective of caste and creed, they take part in the feast. But for some families it is part of their culture to take blessings from the Shrine.

Shrine management has arranged basic facilities for the devotees with co-operation from the Taluk Administration. Like every year, religious programmes will be held and a decorated chariot of St. Antony will be taken in a procession around the Shrine.

Bishop of Mysuru Rev. K.A. William will conduct the prayers at the Shrine, followed by special worship and prayers.

It is learnt that in 1800, a poor farmer found an idol in his farm while ploughing which he assumed that it is a toy until in his dreams a sage came and told him to respect the idol. The farmer ignored the dream and bad things started happening in life which forced him to build a small temple and started worshipping on daily basis. Soon he prospered and became very rich. He shared this story with a Christian priest in Mysore who recognised the statue as St. Anthony and built a Shrine there. On St. Anthony's death anniversary, this Feast is being held annually. People offer candles and flowers to St. Anthony and take his blessings. Meanwhile, Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh, addressing a press meet at the Prayer Hall of St. Anthony's Church, instructed the officials concerned to gear up for the mega feast and leave no stone unturned to make the Jathra a success.

Rev. Fr. Dr. R. Arogyaswamy, Parish Priest, St. Antony's Shrine, who was also present, said that devotees from across the globe irrespective of caste and creed participate in the Feast and seek the blessings besides praying to Lord Jesus to fulfil their wishes.

Minister S.R. Mahesh addressing a press meet at St. Anthony's Church in Dornahalli, K.R. Nagar taluk as Rev. Fr. Arogyaswamy and others look on.

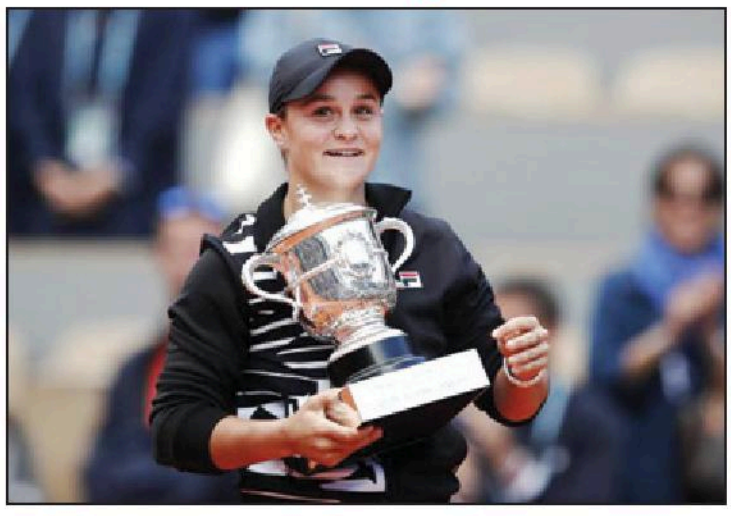
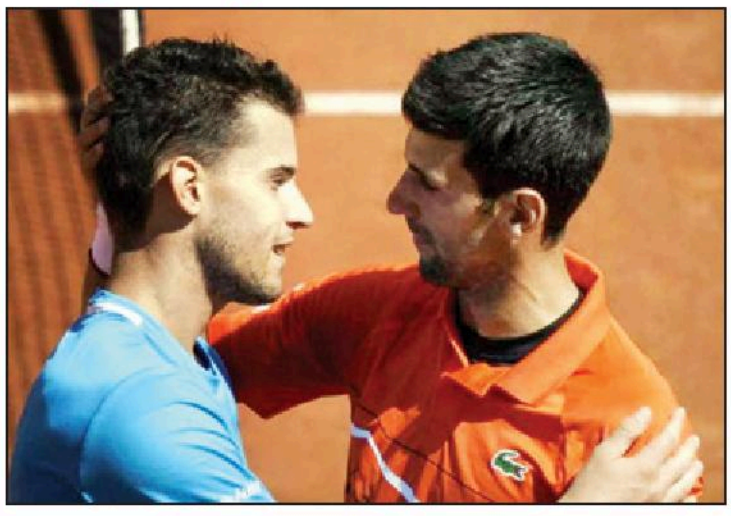
Thiem ends Djokovic history bid; To face Nadal in final today





Paris, June 9- Ashleigh Barty ended Australia's 46-year wait for a French Open Singles title on Saturday by thrashing nervous Czech teenager Marketa Vondrousova in a one-sided women's final.

Eighth seed Barty got off to a strong start and never looked back, winning 6-1, 6-3 after only 70 minutes to claim her maiden Grand Slam title.

The 23-year-old will rise to second in the world behind only Naomi Osaka when the latest rankings are released next week, after becoming the first Australian winner at Roland Garros since Margaret Court won the last of her five trophies in 1973.

She will be best-ranked Australian woman since Evonne Goolagong Cawley in 1976.

Men's Singles

Novak Djokovic's dream of becoming just the second man in history to hold all Grand Slam titles at the same time twice was crushed by Dominic Thiem at Roland Garros on Saturday.

Thiem downed the world number one 6-2, 3-6, 7-5, 5-7, 7-5 to set up a repeat of last year's final against 11-time winner and defending champion Rafael Nadal.

Djokovic, who was second best to Thiem when it came to mastering the gloom, wind and damp of Paris, was bidding to join Rod Laver in the Grand Slam history books.

However, it's 25-year-old Austrian fourth seed Thiem who goes on to face Nadal where he will be buoyed by having defeated the 17-time major winner four times on clay in his career.

He will also attempt to become just Austria's second Grand Slam men's champion after Thomas Muster won in Paris in 1995.

Huchayyanakatte bursts into glory, people flock to feel the cascading chill

Temporary waterfall caused in Chamarajanagar as Government releases water to fill Lakes

Chamarajanagar, June 9 (SS&BCT)- A waterfall arising out of an overflowing tank in Chamarajanagar is drawing people in hordes. Searing heat in the region has made people rush into the waterfall and immerse themselves in cool cascading waters. And they love every moment of it. As the water is not deep and dangerous, even children are crowding the place.

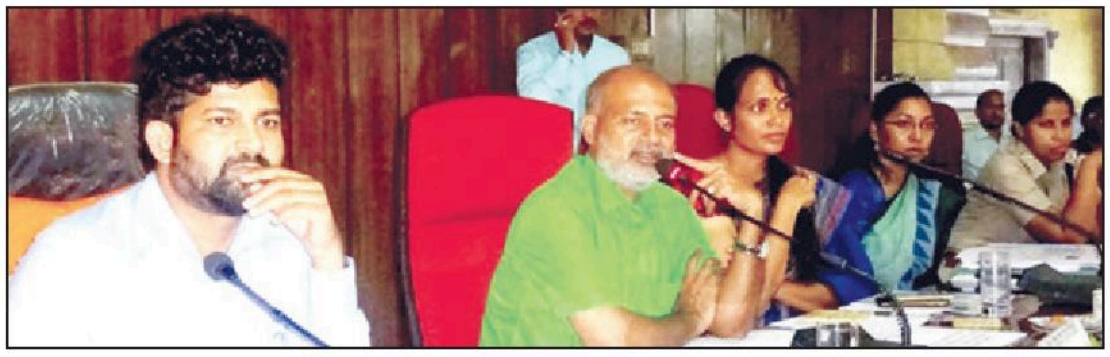
The place is Huchayyanakatte in Chamarajanagar Taluk at Amchawadi-Lakshmipura village. The tank is overflowing following the State Government's Lake Filling project. As a result, an artificial waterfall has been formed and people stand amidst the flow of water to enjoy the force and at the same time get relief from summer heat.

The project to fill the Lakes was taken up at Narasamangala Lake in the Taluk and there is a canal that connects Narasamangala Lake with Amchawadi Lake. Between Narasamangala Lake and Amchawadi Lake is Huchayyanakatte and there is a continuous flow of water. So much so that water is springing over the boundaries of Huchayyanakatte and attracting the crowd.

Local villagers say that whenever the Government fills up Narasamangala Lake, Huchayyanakatte bursts into glory. While small children play inside the water downstream, adventurous youth climb Huchayyanakatte concrete boundaries and jump into water. Others just stand on boundary wall to feel water gushing out through their legs, tickling their feet.

Dry and parched all these years, Huchayyanakatte has become a selfie spot now with people sending photos and videos to their families and friends, attracting more and more visitors. The place is just 15 kms from Chamarajanagar and water will stop once the Government fills all the Lakes. So, what are you waiting for? Head to Huchayyanakatte and explore the water world.

Kodagu Dist. Minister orders distribution of houses for flood victims



Madikeri, June 9- Kodagu District in-charge Minister S.R. Mahesh has directed the district administration to publish the list of houses meant for distribution among flood victims in all Gram Panchayats within two days.

WORD OF THE DAY

Overmorrow

Pronunciation: oh-ver-mawr-oh, -mor-oh.
Meaning: The day after tomorrow.
Origin: Overmorrow had a brief history, first recorded in the first half of the 16th century and lasting into the second half of that same century. The rare word occurred in the phrase "today, tomorrow, and overmorrow."
Example: I've heard that tomorrow and overmorrow may bring exceptionally high waves.

THE ODD WORD

Omophagy

The eating of raw food, especially meat.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

On the ball

Meaning: To be alert; in command of one's senses.

Origin: Some authorities have suggested that 'on the ball' originated in the sporting arena, and alludes to runners being on the balls of their feet, eagerly ready to run a race. This has some similarities with being 'up to scratch', which derives from boxers or runners being ready at the starting line. It is a plausible derivation, but has nothing to recommend it beyond that.

A more commonly advocated location for the source of 'on the ball' is the Royal Observatory at Greenwich. This is where the oldest surviving and best known time-ball is sited.

The Greenwich time-ball was installed in 1833 to signal the accurate time to passing ships. It was, and still is, raised just before 1 pm each day and falls as 1 pm strikes on the observatory's clock. Captains needed to have their ships' chronometers set accurately in order to navigate correctly, hence they needed to be 'on the ball.' It's a nice story and there are any number of tour guides around the observatory who are all too happy to repeat it. Unfortunately... Need I go on? It isn't true. The phrase 'on the ball' did actually originate in the sporting arena, but relates to the eyes rather than the feet. It is a contraction of the earlier expression 'keep your eye on the ball', which advice has been given to participants in virtually every known ball game.

QUOTE BOX

Golf balls are sweet: dimpled and sometimes even smiling.

'Shantaveri Gopala Gowda was an epitome of tolerance'

Scholar Dr. Kalegowda Nagawara is seen inaugurating a memorial programme on Shantaveri Gopala Gowda as other dignitaries look on.

Gopala Gowda

Mysuru, June 9 (MK&US)- District Kannada Sahitya Parishat, Mysuru and Dr. K.S. Gowdaiah Pratishtana, K.R. Nagar, had organised a programme titled 'Shantaveri Gopala Gowda - Ondu Nenapu' at the District Sahitya Bhavan in Vijayanagar 1st Stage here recently.

Inaugurating the programme, scholar Dr. Kalegowda Nagawara hailed Shantaveri Gopala Gowda as an honest politician with socialistic thoughts coupled with a good literary consciousness. He recalled that Gopala Gowda, as an Opposition Member during D. Devaraj Urs Government, always fought for the problems of people.

Speaking on the occasion, critic Dr. Nandish Hanche observed that tolerance was missing among politicians today who sometimes behave as goondas. He praised Gopala Gowda as an epitome of tolerance who should be emulated by all politicians.

Retired Prasaranga Director Dr. K.T. Veerappa, Parishat District President Dr. Y.D. Rajanna, Pratishtana President G. Prakash and Theatre Artiste Rajashekar Kadamba were present.
